

Attention to Detail

You provide enough information and complete enough steps in a task that the person who follows you can use your work with confidence.

